OF THE

The Barron Valley Hotel since November 1933 arrived in Atterbury. The Hotel was rebuilt and an Art Deco theme emerged, with a new look.

Once rebuilt, the hotel featured a bar, lounge, and dining room, partitioned off from the main hall. Fortunately, the hotel has undergone several renovations in the late 1990s and early 2000s for the Tableland community to enjoy, providing a base for local businesses & families. The Barron Valley is a late night watering hole, with many of the original buildings remaining.

Listed with the Australian Heritage List, the hotel is one of Australia's most historic hotels, recognised by the QHA as one of the best hotels & the Nasser family's contribution to the region.
